Chase suspect arrested

- Police arrest man three days after an SUV crash on the front lawn of a house on Arlington Avenue
- Officers, K9 team chased suspect through backyard and over a fence Monday, but lost him

An Ottawa man suspected of stealing an SUV and leading police on a chase Monday is now charged with abducting two people under the age of 14.

Police said the suspect "forcibly removed" the occupants of an SUV in Orleans and led officers on a chase. The car chase ended with a crash on the front lawn of a house on Arlington Avenue. But the man fled, eluding police.

"We heard the bump outside and saw the big truck smashed into the tree, my car and the tenant's car too," said homeowner Samira Freije. "Thank God nobody got hurt."

Kevin Ranney, 45, was arrested Thursday morning. He is also charged with robbery, dangerous driving and engaging police in pursuit. He was to appear in court Friday.

Students rally to help custodian

Students at Turnbull School have run in the Ottawa Race Weekend for the past 13 years, but this year the race is a little closer to heart.

The school will be raising money for the Ottawa Hospital Foundation and running on May 14 for their custodian, Joe Fa-toric, who is undergoing colon cancer treatment.

Fatoric said he was overwhelmed yesterday when he was greeted by hundreds of students at the school as they kicked off their "Jog for Joe" campaign.

"I feel really good today," he said, adding that he hopes to be able to cheer on the kids in May.

"They showed a lot of support for me so I've got to do something for them." ● JOE LOFARO

Gearing up for some serious car crushing

► Monster truck show to also feature ATV races, pro street bike stunts and freestyle motocross

If there is someone who feeds off of an adrenaline rush, it's monster truck driver Joe Sylvester.

The 26-year-old made a stop in Ottawa yesterday with his 10,000-pound four-by-four, "Bad Habit", to give a car-crushing demonstration in the Scotiabank parking lot before Saturday's Monster Spectacular show.

"It's that times 10 when you're actually at a show," said Sylvester after crushing two old cars like pancakes with his truck.

Sylvester also broke the world record for the longest distance jump in monster trucking last September.

"It's a fast-paced, exciting sport and it's fun for the whole family." Saturday's two-and-half-hour show starts at 7 p.m. inside Scotiabank Place.

"They have 15,000 horsepower, they hit the gas and they hit the cars and they go like 40 feet in the air. That's what's impressive," said event promoter Chris Arel.

"They weigh 10,000 pounds, but they have these high-tech suspensions. It's very cool to see."

Parliament Rampage an eye-opener

▶ Canadian Foundation for Physically Disabled Persons sponsors first Ottawa Rolling Rampage

JESSICA SMITH
@METRONEWS.CA

More than 1,000 elementary school students spent Thursday morning in the sun on the Parliament Hill lawns, getting fresh air, exercise and a valuable life lesson.

The kids ran in relay races and watched as wheelchair athletes raced around the Parliament buildings. It was part of Rolling Rampage, an event that promotes awareness of physically disabled athletes.

Fifth-grader Victoria Muir was on the winning junior relay team from St. Mary Catholic School.

"It was really fun," she said.

Her teacher, Patrick Huntley, said he hopes the students learn from the example of the wheelchair athletes.

"They're learning what

Grade 5 student Nicholas Occomore said he hasn't tried wheelchair racing yet, but added "it's cool" and he'd like to learn how.

Cupcakes sweeten all political tastes

► Supporters willing to eat across party lines for favourite cupcakes: Owner

OTTAWA@METRONWS.CA

Ottawa voters are making their tastes known, whether they prefer the Liberal Lemon Raspberry, the NDPeanut Butter Cup or the Conservative Cowboy — a cupcake that features oatmeal, coconut, chocolate chips and brown sugar buttercream icing.

The Flour Shoppe on Bank Street is making a cupcake for each political party during the election campaign — plus the Not Sure Neapolitan for undecided voters.

The most popular?

"The Bloc Brownie, but that's not necessarily reflective of peoples' political tastes," said owner Melissa Somers, adding that the brownie cupcake has a "salted, caramel buttercream icing" on it.

Somers said she got the idea while speaking to her friend, Ian Capstick, who owns a public relations firm and is very plugged in to the political scene.

"He mentioned, 'why don't you do something for the election,' and the reaction so far has been pretty hilarious," she said.

Day for beer

Mayor Jim Watson will be pulling the first official pint of a new local beer Friday as he helps Ottawa's only full production craft brewery, Kichesippi Beer Co. celebrate its first anniversary.

"Tomorrow the mayor is going to proclaim April 15, Kichesippi Beer Day," said brewery co-owner Paul Meeks on Thursday.

Watson and a number of other dignitaries will be attending the invitation-only anniversary party, but Meeks said the company's new beer, Kichesippi 1855 — a tip of the hat to the year Ottawa became a city — will be available for sale this weekend.

Speak up, abuse victim tells college students

If you are being abused "speak up" and tell someone — that's the message Heather Imming delivered to Algonquin College students in a lecture Thursday.

Imming told her story to students of the college's Victimology Graduate Certificate Program about suffering brain injuries at the hand of her abusive partner from 1994 to 2001.

"(These students) are the ones who will make the changes so that there will be social justice," said Imming, who sits on the program's advisory committee.

Ont. GDP grew more than U.S., rest of Canada, Duncan says

Ontario's economy outperformed expectations in the fourth quarter with a 0.9 per cent jump in Gross Domestic Product, leading to an annualized growth rate of 3.8 per cent for 2010.

The province's economy outperformed both Canada and the United States, Finance Minister Dwight Duncan said Thursday.

Fourth-quarter numbers were led by strong growth in exports, despite the rising dollar, as well as continued gains in business investment and consumer spending, added Duncan.

"Another quarter of very solid growth ... right across the board," he said. "The Ontario economy has now had six quarters in a row of growth, and we're very pleased with the results."

While an above-par dollar tends to hurt Ontario exports, Duncan said he considered the high-flying loonie's impact on the economy as he prepared the provincial budget last month.

"That dollar rose throughout those last six quarters, and we're still seeing manufacturers invest in new equipment, which makes our economy more productive," he said.

Effective Sunday, April 17

New timetables are available for all peak period and express routes as well as the following routes which have schedule changes: 1, 3, 4, 7, 9, 12, 14, 85, 86, 87, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 101, 106, 111, 112, 114, 116, 117, 118, 122, 124, 125, 126, 128, 129, 140, 141, 142, 143, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 151, 152, 154, 156, 163, 164, 165, 166, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 316 and the O-Train.

Route changes will also effect these routes:

70, 71, 73, 76, 77, 94, 95, 96, 97, 101, 163, 170, 171, 172, 173, 175, 176, 177 and 186.

Route 181 will be cancelled and replaced by Routes 170 and 173, while Route 195 will be cancelled and replaced by more frequent service on Route 94.

Streamlining Downtown Service

Service efficiency in the downtown core along Albert and Slater Streets in rush hour will be improved by running fewer buses through the core, which will reduce congestion, speed up service and improve reliability. More articulated buses will be used on express and peak period routes in order to carry the same number of passengers. As a result, most express routes will have one or two fewer trips.

Faster Commuter Service to Downtown

Travel time to downtown on green Express and Rural Express routes will be improved with new limited stops in the morning rush hour. Once express routes have picked up customers in their community, they'll travel more quickly downtown by bypassing selected stations, unless a customer on board requests a stop. For example:

- Orleans express and east end rural express routes will make drop-offs only from Blair to Train Station.
- Kanata, Stittsville, Richmond and Bells Corners routes will make drop-offs only from Queensway to Westboro Station.
- Barrhaven express routes will make drop offs only from Baseline to Westboro Station. Also, there will be no pickups in the morning at stops along Woodroffe Avenue after Fallowfield Station.

Customers who normally board express routes at these stations will have frequent service on other routes. All stations will be served through downtown between Tunney's Pasture and Hurdman. Express routes will continue to make all stops in the afternoon rush hour.

Ready, set ... campaign

FRANK GUNN/THE CANADIAN PRESS

► Leaders start 18-day sprint ► 24 Sussex Drive is the winning post ► But will voters shake off the blahs?

Now comes the hard part.

After the TV debates, all four party leaders hit the election trail Thursday to begin the 18-day sprint to the May 2 election.

The two debates could signal the start of serious public engagement in an election campaign that appears not to have galvanized the electorate.

And backdrops are something every polished campaigner tries to ensure will properly project their campaign message.

Liberal Leader Michael Ignatieff was at a hardware store in Gatineau, Que., making a pitch for his party's permanent home energy retrofit program.

NDP Leader Jack Layton, flanked by his lone MP from Quebec Thomas Mulcair, used his big orange campaign tour bus as a backdrop to stress his party's hopes of making inroads in Canada's second-biggest province.

And Prime Minister Stephen Harper, framed by a dozen Quebec Conservative candidates who applauded his every utterance, pounded on the theme of a majority government that could provide stability while rewarding the "regions" that see fit to elect Tories.

Ethnic angst

- Liberal Leader Michael Ignatieff picked up Thursday where he left off during the televised leaders' debates, lambasting Prime Minister Stephen Harper over an email a Tory campaign worker sent out seeking people in "ethnic costume" to serve as a backdrop at an event with the PM.
- "The opportunity is to have up to 20 people in national folklore costumes which represent their ethnic backgrounds," the email said.
- It added: "These people will sit in front row behind the PM — great TV photo-op."

For refreshing political views, ask students

- ▶ 22 students help campaign push for a parliamentary seat
- ▶ Teacher: Kids learn every day, but campaign is real thing

MORGAN MODJESKI
OTTAWA@METRONEWS.CA

Matt Henderson is running for the parliamentary seat in Winnipeg South Centre and his advisers are not the usual group of suits — they're his students.

Henderson, a teacher at St. John's Ravenscourt school, asked his Grade 9 students to put together a winning campaign platform.

"I'm opening up the curriculum to them in an authentic way, in a hands-on way and in a way that makes studying the Canadian political system and studying democracy relevant to them," said Henderson.

He's running as an independent.

A number of issues are addressed in Henderson's platform including poverty, the environment and the economy, all of which contain student insight.

"We're taking it very seriously. We're a candidate, we don't do it just for fun," said Henderson. "We're trying to put together a coherent campaign, with coherent ideas."

Henderson added that his team is able to look at issues in a more objective fashion as his students have yet to establish a political opinion.

"They're able to look at an issue from a perspective without having a jaded experience," said Henderson. "These kids blow me away every day. The biggest challenge is that we have 22 perspectives."

Will price be right for T.O. zoo?

Bob Barker, the former Price Is Right host and animal activist, is heading to Toronto on Friday to convince zoo management to send elephants Toka, Thika and Iringa to new homes in the U.S.

Barker says he will likely contribute some of his own money to help move three Toronto elephants to a warmer climate.

The zoo has spent the last three years studying whether to close or upgrade the elephant exhibit and plans a vote on May 12.

Last month, Barker offered Edmonton $100,000 to make sure the city's lone elephant, Lucy, gets a checkup with experts chosen by Zoocheck Canada.

The city has turned down the offer, saying it has its own experts.

Titanic memory to live on in Halifax

- ▶ Titanic hit iceberg at 11:40 p.m. April 14, 1912
- ▶ It sank at 2:20 a.m. ▶ Canadians on the Titanic: 132

JENNIFER TAPLIN
HALIFAX@METRONWS.CA

The 100th anniversary of the sinking of the Titanic is less than a year away.

Halifax, home of the most Titanic graves in the world, will be hosting a centennial commemorative event next year. It's the only city in North America with direct ties to the famous shipwreck.

Organizer Ken Pinto said the event will walk the fine line between festival and sombre memorial for the more than 1,500 people who died 99 years ago.

Titanic 100 will feature a three-day conference for historians and scientists, as well as wakes, art exhibits,

BRIAN DOHERTY,
TITANIC 100 ORGANIZER

concerts and a film festival. Pinto said the three cemeteries with Titanic graves will be refurbished in preparation for the crowds next year. There will also be a public monument placed somewhere on the Halifax waterfront.

Organizers also want to create a Titanic Trail linking the 21 historical sites in the Halifax Regional Municipality and the three spots where director James Cameron shot the movie Titanic in 1996.

"We're hoping to have James Cameron (at the conference in 2012), but he's the most famous person in the world now, although he is Canadian and loves Halifax," Pinto said.

There will be two free concerts — one involving Irish performers and the other featuring a Celtic gospel theme.

"The event will be substantial when we mark the tragic occasion of the sinking of the Titanic," said Brian Doherty, Titanic 100 organizer.

Similar events will be held in Ireland, the UK and the U.S.

Cruise ship to retrace journey

Next year, a cruise ship will retrace the Titanic's tragic path and complete its journey.

The Balmoral will sail with 1,309 paying passengers — the same number that were on the Titanic.

It will follow the ship's path starting from Southampton, England, stopping in Ireland, and to the spot where the Titanic hit the iceberg for a memorial ceremony.

It will arrive in Halifax April 16 before sailing on to New York, Titanic's intended destination.

Historians will brief the passengers along the way and the menus and entertainment will copy what was on board the Titanic.

► In a heart-warming tsunami aftermath, dogs stranded in Japan's radiation zone are given new life ► Volunteers launch a risky roundup

The news photo on the right saved a pack of shelties in a risky radiation zone.

When Etsumi Ogino saw its portrayal of dogs wandering through an abandoned town near Japan's tsunami-damaged nuclear plant, she thought of her own 13-year-old canine Kein and jumped in to action.

"My heart trembled," said Ogino, a 56-year-old volunteer at an animal shelter in Chiba prefecture.

"They looked just like my dog. I started searching for them right away."

An Associated Press photographer had snapped that photo and others of the dogs on an empty street in Minami Soma city, an area evacuated because of radiation fears.

The AP gave her details of where the dogs were spotted — and a rescue operation began.

ken roads and past demolished houses to meet three other volunteers in the ghost town that Minami Soma has become. Some had prepared radiation suits and others wore simple vinyl raincoats.

The pack of shelties was found around the Odaka train station.

It took a while to entice them with snacks, and six or seven were bundled in to each car. The group saved 20 dogs in all.

Most were taken to a veterinary clinic. Others are being cared for by individuals.

Some of the dogs ran away and countless others are still stranded in the evacuation zone.

Plane lands at stricken airport

A Russian aircraft has delivered a U.S. medical vehicle from Miami to Japan's tsunami-stricken Sendai airport.

Volga-Dnepr Airlines says its An-124-100 Ruslan became the first international civil flight to land at Sendai Thursday to deliver the vehicle.

The Vision Van will offer emergency treatments for eye injuries incurred during or after the earthquake.

The Sendai airport on Japan's northeast coast reopened Wednesday for the first time since the March 11 tsunami raced across the runways.

Gadhafi's troops kill 13 civilians

► Gadhafi's troops unleash heavy shelling for three hours on the port city of Misrata ► Take control of some neighbourhoods

Forces loyal to Moammar Gadhafi shelled a besieged western city Thursday, killing at least 13 people, and new NATO air strikes shook Tripoli as the U.S. told a meeting the alliance must intensify its mission to isolate the Libyan leader and "bring about his departure."

After the explosions in Tripoli, one resident of a western suburb of the capital said anti-aircraft guns returned fire, apparently at NATO warplanes.

"A lot of gunfire followed the explosions," said the resident, who spoke on condition of anonymity because she feared government retaliation. A column of smoke rose in a southeastern part of the city.

Libyan state television showed video of Gadhafi defiantly pumping his fists in the air as he stood through the sun roof of a car moving quickly through the streets of Tripoli. It said Gadhafi's tour came at the same time as NATO air strikes on military and civilian areas of the capital and Aziziyah, about 35 kilometres to the south, adding that there were civilian casualties. The report could not be confirmed immediately.

U.N. Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon chaired a Cairo meeting of regional and international organizations on Libya and set three targets: reaching and implementing a cease-fire, delivering humanitarian aid and starting a dialogue on Libya's future.

Civil war possible as Yemeni rivals clash

Gunmen loyal to the government attacked the forces of the Yemeni president's chief rival early Wednesday, killing one person and raising fears that Yemen's weeks of popular unrest could evolve into pitched battles between factions of the divided military.

State media described the attack as a case of the government's rapid response forces quelling a "provocative action" by Maj. Gen. Ali Mohsen al-Ahmar, the commander of the 1st Armored Division.

"The leader of the 1st Armored Division is responsible for any attempts that could cause security tensions," the government statement said, raising the level of rhetoric between the two longtime rivals.

Yemen's military split on March 17, when President Ali Abdullah Saleh's chief competitor for power, al-Ahmar, abruptly declared his solidarity with the protesters who have been demonstrating for weeks calling for the president's ouster.

Ex-colonel's divorce to remain private

► Russell Williams is shown in this court-released image from his interrogation by police captured on video and shown Wednesday in a Belleville, Ont., courtroom.

- Wife's name, financial and medical records under publication ban
- Media lawyers argue against seal, citing freedom of the press

An Ottawa court has ruled that divorce proceedings involving convicted sex killer Russell Williams and his wife will remain under a publication ban.

The former colonel's wife, who can now no longer be named, had argued for a seal on her financial and medical records.

That covers a domestic deal the couple signed shortly after Williams was charged with two counts of first-degree murder in the deaths of two eastern Ontario women.

Justice Jennifer MacKinnon has ruled that the domestic contract will remain under a publication ban until it is tendered as an exhibit in the case.

She also sealed sensitive portions of Williams' wife's personal medical information, which had been put before court.

Williams was a rising star in the military and commander at Canadian Forces Base Trenton before being sentenced to life in prison for the murders, a pair of sexual assaults and dozens of fetish break-ins.

Lawyers for several media outlets have been arguing against the ban.

Media lawyer Richard Dearden told The Canadian Press the outlets "are pleased that the judge has denied the request for a sweeping sealing order but are analyzing whether the various non-publication orders minimally impair freedom of the press."

'Raging' loonie feeds growing price gap

▶ Canadian consumers are paying 20 per cent more for some goods than U.S. counterparts

A "raging" loonie has led to a massive price gap.

Douglas Porter, deputy chief economist of the Bank of Montreal, notes that in the summer of 2009 the spread was just under seven per cent. With the rebound in the currency, the gap has widened even more.

BMO's survey compared 11 items. For example, a Blu-ray copy of The King's Speech cost $24.99 in Canada, 28 per cent more than it would have cost in the U.S. in Canadian dollars. Titleist's premier ProV1 golf balls were 11 per cent more expensive in Canada at $49.99, versus $45.07 south of the border.

The biggest discrepancy was with running shoes, where the five samples averaged $147.99 in Canada, 48 per cent more than if the shoes were purchased in the U.S.

It is hard to pinpoint just one reason for the gap.

The U.S. retail sector is more competitive than Canada's and subject to far more discounting by retailers.

The American economy is also in a tougher shape than Canada's, making it more difficult to sustain higher prices.

Canadian importers also negotiate wholesale prices with American suppliers early in the year so volatile swings in currency values may not reflect that until da says that retailers have had several years to get used to the two currencies at or near par, and have barely adjusted prices.

"I'm amazed at how long this is going on," he said. "Canadian retail doesn't seem to match up to any kind of reality. We're being gouged as consumers."

Cran said his organization's surveys show the situation is worse than BMO makes out, with the price difference closer to 30 per cent.

The currency was up 0.28 of a cent to 104.19 cents US on financial markets Thursday.

The verdict is in: Reviewers pan PlayBook but say there's hope

The first reviews of Research In Motion's PlayBook are in, and they're generally not good.

The New York Times' prominent tech writer David Pogue calls the tablet "half-baked" and says "it seems almost silly to try to assess it, let alone buy it."

Pogue is one of several U.S. reviewers who were given early access to the much-anticipated device, which RIM hopes can compete with Apple's iPad 2.

But while reviews had good things to say about the PlayBook's hardware, its Flashable web browser and slick interface, most were largely negative.

RIM sent out multiple software updates for the PlayBook while reviewers were assessing it and most indicated there's hope for the device, once it's in a finished state.

"This is both encouraging and worrying — encouraging that RIM is actively working to improve things, but worrying that things as critical as memory management are still being tweaked at the eleventh hour," wrote Engadget reviewer Tim Stevens.

Top court to rule on regulator

► Feds want central oversight of Canada's securities industry, but several provinces want status quo

Canada's financial markets are not a collection of isolated local endeavours but a national and international concern that requires the broad oversight of a national securities regulator, the Supreme Court heard on Thursday.

The court is considering arguments that the current system of 13 provincial and territorial regulators falls short, and that Canada needs to be able to present a unified response to inter-provincial and international problems.

Under the current structure, provincial regulators co-operate through a passport system in which approvals in one province are recognized by others.

The legal issue is whether trading in securities is a matter of contractual, property and civil rights, or can be considered to come under the federal power. Finance Minister Jim Flaherty referred the case to the court in the hope it will sanction creating a single regulator.

However, several provinces are seeking to block the legislation. Both the Alberta and Quebec courts of appeal have rejected the government's proposal. THE CANADIAN PRESS

FRIGHTENED FOR CHARLIE

1 Wedding of the Century. Up to two billion people are expected to tune in for Will & Kate's Big Day on April 29, making this the most watched TV event in history — not to mention one of the biggest social media days. So if you're not into the royal wedding, you might want to find a cabin deep in the woods and be a luddite for a day.

2 Charlie Sheen Tour. His roller-coaster jeers/cheers Violent Torpedo Of Truth tour hit Toronto last night and tonight. The big question remains: Are Charlie's showgoers and his 3.5 million-plus followers on Twitter (@CHARLIESHEEN) merely enablers to his mental issues and addictions he is battling. Dr. Drew, who has said, "I'm frightened for the guy," might agree.

3 Hockey Fever. Political parties moved the date of the French language debate to Wednesday from Thursday to avoid conflicting with a Montreal Canadiens' playoff game against their arch-rival Boston Bruins. This may be an (other) important election, but you don't want to compete with hockey-mad viewers.

4 Bronx Zoo. Its World of Reptiles exhibit will now be quite the tourist attraction after its Egyptian cobra escaped and someone created a hilarious @bronzzooscobra Twitter account (with 241,000 followers and counting), tweeting its time on the run, er, slither. The snake was found and the zoo held a "submit a name" promotion for the world famous cobra. The winner after 60,000 votes were cast? Mia.

5 Piers Morgan. Larry who? Some questioned the choice to replace the iconic Larry King with Piers Morgan, who was best known as being a judge on America's Got Talent. But Morgan now hosts the most watched news program on CNN — Piers Morgan Tonight — and has become must-watch TV for his hard-ball-with-a-cheeky-grin questions.

6 John Deere, Meet Wal-Mart. A passerby happened to catch a driverless John Deere tractor's destructive run around a Wal-Mart parking lot in Richmond Hill, Ont. And he began filming. As someone says during the video taping, "Put 'em on YouTube!" Well, the filmer did just that and "Tractor demolition derby at Wal-Mart superstore parking lot in Richmond Hill" has gone viral, with nearly 400,000 views.

Worth mentioning

MOSCOW. Russia has banned the hunting of polar bears this year, thanks to a group with close ties to Prime Minister Vladimir Putin, a longtime defender of large endangered animals.

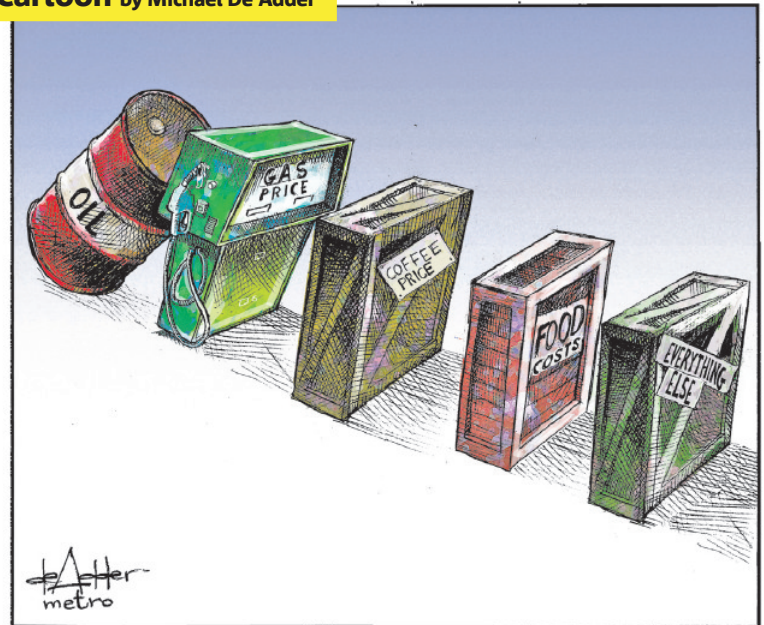

A Russian-U.S. commission last year agreed to restrict polar bear hunting to 29 animals per year for each country. But The Polar Bear program, established under Putin's patronage, said this week that Russia had waived its quota for bear hunting.

The Polar Bear program, which said U.S. officials had long been reluctant to introduce the cap on hunting, said approximately 100 polar bears a year have been killed in Alaska in recent years.

"Measures taken by Russia will ensure that the United States will be killing at least 70 polar bears fewer than before, which, according to Russian specialists, will help to sustain and boost the population of this beautiful Arctic animal," the group said in a statement posted on Putin's official website.

As long as it's not that Friday song

It's a whale of a tune — literally. Male humpback whales off the coast of eastern Australia develop a catchy tune each year that they sing to impress lady humpbacks, AFP News reports.

Researchers say the tune spreads to other male whales across the South Pacific Ocean and different groups of whales then sing it throughout the mating season, according to a study released Thursday by the University of Queensland.

All the catchy whale songs over the past decade originated off the eastern coast of Australia and spread as far as the French Polynesia.

Scientists are puzzled as to why the whales all sing the same song, since it appears they do it to attract a mate. And they're not all that original. While the occasional new song has surfaced, the whales usually seem to mix tunes from previous seasons to create a new sound.

The 11-year project is described as the first documented study of "repeated, dynamic cultural change occurring across multiple populations at such a large geographic scale." ● METRO

Plot synopsis

In Rio, nerd actor du jour Jesse Eisenberg plays, (what else?) a nerdy birdy named Blu — a domesticated macaw — from small-town Minnesota. He's never learned to fly, but enjoys a happy and healthy life with his owner and BFF Linda (Leslie Mann). When they discover the last remaining female blue macaw in the world lives in Rio de Janeiro (voice of Anne Hathaway) they make the journey to find her. But their trip doesn't go as planned.

► The animated Rio follows a domesticated macaw who travels from Minnesota to Rio de Janeiro.

Colourful, musical Rio

► Richard Crouse and Mark Breslin debate the merits of Rio ► Musical numbers and strong supporting cast life a weak story not quite to Pixar levels

Richard Crouse: Mark, I have to get the 800 pound elephant — or in this case, the big blue bird — out of the way right away. Let me say that Rio has an OK story and fine animation but it really lacks the depth of a Pixar film. Maybe I'm spoiled, but when I watch animated movies, whether they are Dreamworks, or, like this one, from Fox, I can't help but think, What would the wizards at Pixar have done with this story?

Mark Breslin: Richard, I agree. Pixar is the gold standard of animated films, but sometimes, you just have to go for the bronze. Or as Stephen Stills once sang, "If you can't be with the one you love, love the one you're with." I found there were a lot of things to enjoy about the movie, even if it wasn't Pixar perfect. Let's start with the look and setting: ravishing colour palette and exotic location: Rio.

RC: Don't get me wrong, Rio is perfectly serviceable. It's colourful and filled with nice little touches like a little bird who warms himself against a traffic light, flitting back-and-forth between the red and green lights, in snowy Minnesota. But even with all the good stuff it isn't particularly memorable.

It'll keep the little ones occupied in the theatre — although very little kids may find some of the action a bit too intense — and has some good messages but there's no real sticky content here.

MB: Yes, the story is weak, and 15 minutes too long. But I found the movie came alive during the three musical numbers, and if there only had been more, a full-blown musical, the movie might have been a near classic. But there were nice moments of visual wit, and I appreciated Jesse Eisenberg's attempts at Woody Allen line readings. Nigel, the avian villain, is good, as is Tracy Morgan's drooly bulldog.

Could have used more of him.

RC: I agree. The movie is just off by 20 per cent. I wasn't much taken with the voice work from the leads but will.i.am, Jamie Foxx, Morgan and particularly Jemaine Clement are great. When their characters are on screen the movie comes alive. When they're not, it doesn't really take flight.

MB: And although it is a sanitized version of Rio de Janeiro presented in the film, I was pleased to see some references to street urchins, favelas, pickpockets and bad Brazilian steakhouses as part of the movie.

Scene in brief

Russell Brand was on his best behaviour when he started working with Dame Helen Mirren — until she told him off for it. "I kind of was shy when I met her. I think she just did that to, you know, break the ice: 'Don't respect me,' she said."

Scream 4 not able to live up to original

Scream 4

Genre: Horror

Director: Wes Craven

Stars: Neve Campbell, Courteney Cox, David Arquette

Scream was a necessary adrenaline shot in the heart for the horror genre, revitalizing the slasher movie by poking fun at its predictable conventions and clichés. The sequels offered diminishing returns with a third entry so terrible that it killed off the series. Now a decade later along comes Scream 4, reuniting the surviving cast members of the first series for a collection of new killings in the town of Woodsboro. A fantastic opening sequence sets the tone, but things fall apart from there.

The goal of this movie was to comment on the recent slew of horror franchise reboots and remakes that soiled screens over the past few years. Unfortunately, those movies have no conventions or clichés to pick apart, so aside from noting that “remakes suck,” the filmmakers don’t have much to do. Ironically the movie ends up being dragged down by the conventions of its own franchise and what was once thrillingly original now feels repetitively dull. Director Wes Craven is still a master genre craftsman, so there are memorable scares and some clever commentary on contemporary celebrity culture, but overall, Scream 4 is just another needless entry in a franchise long past its prime. PHIL BROWN

Mulroney: The Opera

Genre: Musical comedy

Director: Larry Weinstein

Stars: Rick Miller, Dan Redican, Stephanie Anne Mills ●●●½

 This is no gentle satire on our former PM Brian Mulroney. It actually says the words, names the names and gleefully re-opens wounds of a scandal-blackened political career that was neither kind nor gentle. This IS opera, performed by actors lip-synching to opera stars; expect ear shredding highs, rumbling lows and shock-induced laughs. It's zany, colourful, and takes no prisoners. ANNE BRODIE

Win Win

Genre: Comedy

Director: Thomas McCarthy

Stars: Paul Giamatti, Amy Ryan, Jeffrey Tambor

Ryan, J
 1 1/2

Thomas McCarthy follows up The Visitor with another low-key character piece about outsiders forming makeshift families. This time his focus is on Paul Giamatti's struggling small-town lawyer and wrestling coach who finds himself caring for the man's troubled and talented wrestler grandson. What sounds soapy feels painfully real and hilarious. PHIL BROWN

Dogtooth

Genre: Drama

Director: Yorgos Lanthimos

Stars: Christos Stergioglou, Michelle Valley

Michelle
 4 1/2

Dogtooth focuses on a family whose dysfunction has been highly systematized. For reasons that are never fully explained, the father has raised his brood to be oblivious to the outside world, inscribing various odd behaviours. As an allegory for authoritarianism, Dogtooth is cogent and frightening, and one of the year's essential foreign imports. ADAM NAYMAN

Reese picks elephant over the vampire

NED EHRBAR
SCENE@METRONWS.CA
METRO WORLD NEWS IN HOLLYWOOD

Let's be honest, when Reese Witherspoon sits down to discuss her new film, Water for Elephants — an adaptation of the best-selling book about a young veterinary student (Twilight star Robert Pattinson) who joins a traveling circus and finds himself in a love triangle with the star performer (Witherspoon) and sadistic ringmaster (Christopher Waltz) — what inquiring minds really want to know is what it's like to kiss R. Patz?

"Rob possibly had the most hideous, horrible cold of any co-star I've ever had to do a love scene with ever in my entire (life)," Witherspoon admits with faux repulsion. "I'm talking green, infectious, disgusting! He was literally snorting and snorting through every second of it and it was not appealing. I was just trying not to get sick the whole time," she laughs.

While her rendezvous with Pattinson was less than ideal, Witherspoon forged another very deep connection on set with Tai, the film's titular pachyderm. Growing up in Tennessee, the 35-year-old Oscar-winner was used to riding horses but admits nothing prepared her to "ride (an elephant) bareback, in a leotard, holding on with one hand."

"I worked with Tai closely and intensely for a while, developing the routine and practicing," she explains. "It was a very emotional experience for me. One of my favourite stories, which speaks to the intelligence of (Tai) ... was when we were shooting a night shoot really late one night. The next day she was so tired and I asked the trainers, 'Why is she so tired?' And they said, 'Well, she stayed up all night telling all the other elephants what she had been up to.' She lives with six other elephants, who talk to each other by roaring. ... The trainers said the elephants roared for nearly an hour before they went to bed."

Perhaps one of the things Tai was trumpeting about was how glorious Witherspoon looks in the film, channeling Jean Harlow in tight platinum curls and luxurious satin dresses, that slither over her body. Witherspoon says she watched hours of old films to research her role, changing the way she walked, spoke and stood.

"I had this whole dream of doing an incredible '30s accent," the actress giggles, "and then after the first day (director Francis Lawrence) said, 'I don't think you should do that anymore. It's really hard to understand what you're saying.'"

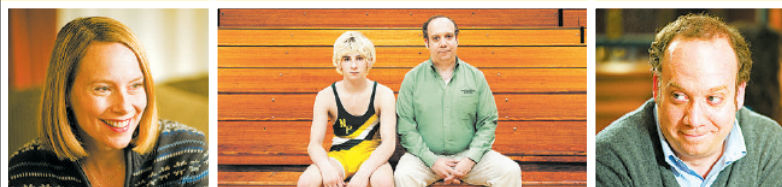

► Reese Witherspoon and Robert Pattinson star in Water for Elephants, which opens in theatres next Friday.

Locale, story draw Braff north

► American TV and movie actor loved the idea of shooting a movie in Montreal that is actually set in Montreal

SCENE@METRONews.CA

If most Hollywood actors were offered a chance to spend 15 days in wintry Montreal shooting in a low-budget Canadian movie, they'd swiftly fire their agent. For Zach Braff however, filming High Cost of Living under just those conditions was a bonus.

"I actually thought it was cool because so many movies come up to Canada to shoot Canada as the States," said the Scrubs-star recently in Toronto. "I just thought this is a movie in Montreal about Montreal. I don't think I've ever seen a movie about Montreal."

Although Braff admits

Braff's resumé

► Playwright. Zach Braff can soon add playwright to his resumé when his production All New People opens off-Broadway in June. "In the play world, you can get away with even more dialogue and character and less story than in the film world," said Braff. "I liked it in that regard."

a love for Quebec, High Cost lured the actor with more than just the story's locale.

A redemptive drama about an American ex-pat that secretly befriends his own hit-and-run victim, the acclaimed favourite fit perfectly into Braff's repertoire — including 2004's Garden State, which he also wrote and directed.

"Everyone can relate to the idea of wanting to be a better person and wanting to take back mistakes they've made," explained Braff. "I'm a sucker for love being the catalyst for making someone a better person; that was the case in Garden State definitely and it's a theme I'm drawn to — being saved by falling in love."

Braff was equally impressed by Toronto filmmaker Deborah Chow — who handled the stress of making her first feature film with a polished professionalism.

"I was in a movie once where the director just left — he couldn't handle it," laughed Braff. "There's so much pres-

Alison Krauss & Union Station's Paper Airplane takes flight

► After a long delay, band releases its first album since 2004 ► Previous attempts just didn't feel right
► But collaborations inspired new material

Alison Krauss & Union Station needed songs — bad.

They had plenty to start with when they began recording for the album that would become Paper Airplane. Over time, though, they became disenchanted. Many of the songs just didn't feel right for the bluegrass supergroup known for the special quality of its material.

"It's quite possible that we canned three albums worth of material," singer and guitarist Dan Tyminski said. The band soon decided that its long-delayed and much-anticipated follow-up to 2004's Lonely

Runs Both Ways would be delayed once again.

Most of the songs the band had already recorded didn't have that immediate feel they were looking for. They culled six from those first sessions, but that didn't make an album.

Krauss decided to lean on an old friend Robert Lee Castleman, who had come through for her many times in the past on Grammy-winning songs like The Lucky One and Restless. She got some bad news, though. Turned out Castleman was a very happy man.

"And he says, 'I'm dry. I don't have anything. I'm not inspired,'" Krauss said. "He's always written about love and it not working out and he's now married with a beautiful daughter and a beautiful son."

Nevertheless he invited Krauss over and she sat with him for a while. "So then about seven hours later he called me with a title," Krauss said. "He said it's called Paper Airplane."

It is an unusual song in that it's completely personal for Krauss, yet she didn't write a single word. It proved to be Krauss' favourite and became the title track, leading off the album. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE DAY HOMME DIED

Sound Check

ALAN CROSS

SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Josh Homme (Queens of the Stone Age, Them rooked Vultures, Eagles of Death Metal) isn't exactly a delicate figure. At six-foot-four and somewhere near 250 pounds, few people would be dumb enough to take him on. But even the most robust among us can collide head-on into our own mortality.

"I didn't even speak to my closest friends at that time because stories like these are so awful that you just don't want to tell anybody," he told me. "It's like saying 'This tasted like s**t. Here, taste it.'"

"I had surgery on my leg," Josh points to a spot on his upper left thigh. He continues quietly, still shaken.

"During the surgery, they were unable to get the oxygen tube down my throat to resuscitate me. So my blood began to de-oxygenate. So I guess I was choking to death."

Josh goes very quiet. "And they lost me."

And when he says "lost," he means "full cardiac arrest." Flat-lined. Technically dead.

"They had to defibrillate me, which added a lot of recovery time because, essentially, you're being electrocuted." Josh was in bed for three months.

The next day, he shuffled through the hallways of the hospital with an IV pole. When QotSA guitarist Troy Van Leeuwen showed up with a giant bunch of balloons, "it was the most amazing thing I ever saw," he says.

Initially, he didn't want to play music. "You start asking yourself why do all the people I don't know get all my love and attention and the people I really love... I'm gone so much. It took me a second to get back to where I am now, embracing music again."

Josh and his wife are expecting a second child in August. That's all that matters now.

A royal cocktail

► Raise a glass to Kate and William with this tittle

Charlotte Voisey, a mixologist for William Grant & Sons, created signature cocktails in celebration of the monarchy's ties to Canada. This one, aptly named Commonwealth Celebration, combines Irish whiskey with a dash of maple syrup — the perfect Canadian touch.

Ingredients

- 1 1/2 oz (45 mL) Tullamore Dew Irish Whiskey
- 1 oz (30 mL) Dubonnet Rouge
- 1/2 oz (15 mL) Apricot

Brandy

- 1/4 oz (10 mL) maple syrup

Method

Combine all of the ingredients and stir well.

Strain the drink into a stemmed cocktail glass. Garnish with an orange spiral.

Let the Games begin...

► Kit Harrington plays illegitimate son in epic new HBO Canada series Game of Thrones ► Based on hugely popular fantasy novels, Harrington balances being true to the character of Jon Snow and making role his own

For British actor Kit Harrington, being called a bastard was something he had to quickly become accustomed to. Harrington portrays Jon Snow, the illegitimate son of Ned Stark (Sean Bean) in the epic new HBO Canada series Game of Thrones.

The show is based on a hugely popular series of fantasy novels by George R. R. Martin.

Think Lord of the Rings with less magic and orcs and add in a big helping of political manoeuvring akin to The Tudors.

Harrington spoke to Metro recently while in Toronto filming Silent Hill Revelations 3-D about taking on the role of Snow and playing a bastard.

"It's everything that he is. He is kind, he is loyal to his family, but underneath it all he is the bastard, the illegitimate child," Harrington said. "He's the bastard child of this very famous man who is famous for being a good loyal man."

With little in the way of future prospects, Snow opts to volunteer for life-long service in the Night's Watch, a group of celibate fighters who man The Wall, the northern border of the Seven Kingdoms.

"I think it's the only place he can go," Harrington said. "He needs to go somewhere to be his own man. At this place he can not just be a bastard, but an equal among men and I can rise to the top."

The Wall, which makes the Great Wall of China look like a cubicle, is just one of several settings the Game of Thrones exposes to viewers.

Despite having such a large cast and many different story arcs, Game of Thrones is able to do an excellent job of not moving too fast or making things confusing for those that have no knowledge of the book series.

Harrington himself had no knowledge of the books before being cast in the pilot, although he has since read all four of them. He acknowledged that there is pressure on him to get the role of Jon Snow right for the fans of the series.

"There is a balancing act in that you've got to take it (the role) and make it your own, but also you've got to not make it so much your own that it's not the character anymore," Harrington said.

Game of Thrones premieres Sunday 9 p.m. ET on HBO Canada.

Has Scarlett moved in with Sean Penn?

► Sources say they're living together at Penn's mansion

► Scarlett Johansson

► Sean Penn

Scarlett Johansson is reportedly living with Sean Penn now after three months of dating, according to Us Weekly.

The Iron Man 2 actress has been spending most of her time at Penn's $3.8 million Malibu home and "has essentially moved in over the last few weeks," sources tell the magazine.

The pair have been keeping their public outings to a minimum and prefer to "just stay home" when they can, hanging out with Penn's two children — daughter Dylan, 20, and son Hopper, 17 — and pals like Javier Bardem and Owen Wilson.

Family stress getting to Catherine Zeta-Jones

Catherine Zeta-Jones has checked herself into a mental health facility, according to Popeater.

"After dealing with the stress of the past year, Catherine made the decision to check in to a mental health facility for a brief stay to treat her Bipolar II Disorder," her rep confirms. The actress has been under considerable stress this year, first from her stepson, Cameron Douglas, being sent to prison on drug charges, and then from her husband, Michael Douglas, battling throat cancer. "Catherine had a lot of trouble coping," a source says. "She was chain smoking and drinking." ● METRO

Aniston, Cooper 'in contact'

After one alleged date in 2009, Jennifer Aniston and newly single Bradley Cooper are now reportedly back in touch, according to People magazine.

"In the past few weeks, they have stayed in contact," a source says.

"Jen always had a soft spot for Bradley, and she thinks he is very attractive and charming." When their first outing two years ago was caught by paparazzi, Cooper quickly dismissed any romantic notions, saying, "She's a friend of mine. Simply, simply, just a friend."

"The words expressed do not reflect my feelings towards the gay and lesbian communities and were not meant to offend anyone."

Scott leaves rehab

Seann William Scott has left rehab after completing a 30-stint for as-yet-undisclosed "health and personal reasons," according to Us Weekly. David Arquette and Courteney Cox may still be separated, but it's not for any lack of trying on Arquette's part.

The actor admits to trying to reignite the romance in their relationship during a recent trip to Disney Land with their daughter.

"This is the happiest place on Earth! Let's make it happier!" Arquette says of the trip in an interview with Howard Stern.

Pressed by Stern on whether his attempts even led to a kiss from his estranged wife, Arquette says, "A little bit. It was like we were ... eighth graders. Seventh graders."

Mesmerizing MacMurray ranch & wine

PETER ROCKWELL
LIQUIDASSETS@EASTLINK.CA
TWITTER: @THEREALWINEGUY

Though I'm not easily impressed, sparkling personality and stunning vineyard views had me at hello at California's Sonoma County.

I was visiting MacMurray Ranch in the gorgeous Russian River Valley. Now owned by E & J Gallo, it was originally a cattle ranch built by Fred MacMurray — Hollywood icon and star of TV's My Three Sons.

I got a sense of how important the ranch was to him from my tour guide: His daughter Kate, who lives in a cabin built by her dad.

The property came to life during a tour with Kate. Between stories of Tinseltown royalty that hung out at the ranch, our conversation turned to wine and how pinot noir has become synonymous with her surname.

One of her favourites is the MacMurray Ranch 2007 Sonoma Coast Pinot Noir ($19.99 - $30.79) - a plump, berry-driven red that makes a great match for grilled salmon and roast chicken.

I've Been Caressed!

After much deliberation, I walked into Caress. I admit that I wasn't hopeful but remained desperate. During the consultation I thought that it sounded very positive, however, I had already been for laser treatments and those had started off in much the same way, promises of permanent hair removal only to have all the hair re-grow. So thousands of dollars later and still very much in need of hair removal I decided to try electrolysis. I would recommend Caress to anyone no matter how desperate they may feel.

NATIONAL VOLUNTEER WEEK

NO MATTER HOW IT'S DONE, THANKING VOLUNTEERS IS A VALUABLE PART OF THE PROCESS

Canadians have a rich history of volunteering and community involvement. In fact, 12.5 million men, women and youth dedicate their time, energy and skills across a multitude of sectors, including health care, sports, arts, disaster relief and firefighting, to name just a few.

National Volunteer Week, which is running from April 10 to 16, is the perfect time to extend a sincere thank you to each and every one of them. "Most volunteers would say they get more out of their volunteer work than they give," says Ruth MacKenzie, Volunteer Canada's president and CEO. "But it's really important for an organization to recognize their volunteers' contribution in a tangible way, even if it's just once a year."

Since this type of work is often a very personal endeavour—many volunteers have close emotional ties to the causes they choose to participate in—MacKenzie says

The volunteer energy young people bring to community-cleanup projects make them even more successful.

VOLUNTEER OTTAWA

it's a good idea for the staff members who benefit from the volunteers' help to get to know each volunteer as an individual, then tailor a thank-you gift based on each person's interests.

For example, a teenager might enjoy receiving a movie gift card. MacKenzie cites an example of a retired volunteer who continued working in her sector and who was asked to attend a conference along with staff members, which helped foster her professional development and interest in learning even though her paying career was over. Or maybe the volunteer's supervisor does something as simple as mail a heartfelt handwritten thank-you card.

"Regardless of what you do, it's critically important to say thank you every time a volunteer walks through your door," says MacKenzie. "Volunteers aren't getting paid—and they're not giving of themselves in order to be thanked—but people love to feel appreciated."

by Jane Doucet

MORE WAYS TO SAY THANKS

Every year, Volunteer Canada sells special National Volunteer Week thank-you gifts, which are available at the NVW online store at www.brymark.com/volcaneng1. The gifts include a key chain, picture frame, tote bag, travel tumbler, pen and thank-you cards.

Items such as these are ideal if an organization is hosting an awards ceremony or a more low-key volunteer-recognition gathering. If an organization doesn't have the budget to buy something, there's a volunteer certificate of appreciation available as a free download at volunteer.ca/nvw/nvw-downloads, and a free digital thank-you card will be available on the site in the near future.

► Canadiens goalie turns aside 31 shots in Game 1 victory in Boston

Carey Price returned as Montreal's starting playoff goalie with his third post-season shutout and Brian Gionta scored twice as the Canadiens opened their series in Boston with a 2-0 win on Thursday night.

Price started just one of the Canadiens' 19 playoff games last year when they were seeded eighth but reached the Eastern Conference finals before losing to the Philadelphia Flyers. Jaroslav Halak started the others but was traded to the St. Louis Blues in June. This season Price started 70 games for the Habs and was outstanding in Game 1.

Gionta scored at 2:45 of the first period on a pass from Scott Gomez from the left boards. Gionta and Matthew Darche both got behind the Bruins defence with Darche directly in front of goalie Tim Thomas and Gionta on the right side of the crease. Darche let the puck go by and Gionta put it in between Thomas and the post.

Gomez also assisted on Gionta's other goal at 16:42 of the third period.

The game was played cleanly without any fights. The heated rivals had several physical confrontations during the regular season.

Price's outstanding performance was a major change from his last two games in Boston in which he allowed 13 goals. He let in all of Boston's goals in an 8-6 Montreal win on Feb. 9 and five in a 7-0 loss on March 24. And he was the losing goalie in all four games in the opening play-off round in 2009 when Boston swept Montreal.

Heat's Bosh itching for playoffs to start

► Former Raptor never passed first round of post-season with Toronto

Chris Bosh stammered slightly when trying to explain how NBA playoff games are rougher and tougher than ones in the regular season.

He had to really think about his answer.

"Yeah, it's been a while for me," Bosh said.

Quite an understatement.

That's one of the many reasons why Bosh came to the Miami Heat, which expect a bit more than just getting out of the first round.

Miami's post-season starts Saturday, when the Philadelphia 76ers visit for Game 1 of the Eastern Conference quarter-finals. To say Bosh has been waiting somewhat impatiently for the playoff challenge to arrive, well, that also would be quite an understatement.

3

Number of games Chris Bosh has won in 12 post-season games over eight seasons.

"The past week felt like a month," Bosh said as the regular season wound down. "It's gone by very slow."

From the first day Bosh joined LeBron James and Dwyane Wade in Miami, the Heat have been vilified. Bosh took that harder than most at times.

Then, just before the all-star break, he said he felt "unappreciated" by some around the league.

"But my teammates here appreciate me," Bosh said.

That was proven over the season's final month when the Heat started giving Bosh the ball more. His field-goal percentage rose six per cent over the season's final five weeks.

The Heat were the only team in the league with three players ranked among the NBA's top 25 scorers this season, with James second (26.7) and Wade fourth (25.5). Bosh's 18.7 ranked 24th.

The last time Bosh won a championship was high school. With the Raptors, he never really got to know what leading a series felt like.

That often makes him Miami's forgotten man.

He's waited a long time to change his playoff fortunes.

"We know the challenge in front of us," Bosh said. "We have the type of team that does whatever it takes to win. If we need to be more physical, we're going to do that. If we need to rebound more, we're going to do that. More paint points, we're going to do that."
